The Seven Laws

- 1 Stories Matter
- 2 I Am Enough
- 3 I Belong
- 4 No One is Exempt
- 5 Resting is Required
- 6 Joy is available
- 7 Love is the Answer

A Master Class in The Seven Laws: An Embodied Approach

Are you:

An organizational leader?

A trusted advisor or coach working with leaders?

Come dive deeply into The Seven Laws of Enough as they apply to your organization and workplace.

Now is the time. Never has the call been clearer.
"You are the first organization you must master." -Lao Tsu

We will use the lens of equity and inclusion to transform ourselves from:

- Separation to unity
- Alienation to belonging
- Distraction to presence

Like rings on trees we carry the history of separation, alienation and injustice in our bodies. Through our bodies, we unwind the old and build capacity to remember the truth of the interdependent and interwoven nature of all of life.

Please join us to:

- Stand together
- Build capacity to hold presence in the fire of the moment
- Speak bravely across difference
- Develop skills in handling ambiguity and rapid change in a digital world that fosters deep polarization
- Unwind from the myths of scarcity and separation
- Bring back practices and distinctions to your teams, clients and community that you can apply immediately

"You are the first organization you must master."

- Lao Tsu

Inside of the Seven Laws are practices and pathways to address all of this and more.

Bold—we know—but true!

Let's explore together.
